CONGRATULATIONS VIKI

Twenty years ago a gentleman named John Wotring hired me to work at his establishment, Primrose Alzheimer's Living. I was to be his Marketing Director. I told John that I didn't know a thing about marketing and his response was, "I can teach you all you need to know in 5 minutes!" Well it took a little longer than that! I was very nervous at first. Over time I developed my own style. I learned how to be a listener and share moments who is one a little bit at a time. Who knew I would be able to sit across the table with a person losing a loved one that my job has been an honor and privilege to work somewhere that feeds my soul. I feel that my experience has made me a better person and for that I am most thankful for the opportunity. I have made many wonderful friends here at Primrose whom I will miss. In the blink of an eye 20 years have passed and now it is time for me to retire. Primrose will always be a part of my fabric.
